KRUPS®

Classic Houseware

Classic Houseware operates in the quality Houseware product market sector in which consumers look to purchase quality branded houseware products. The company only distributes brands that have an international presence, and the company has exclusive distribution rights in South Africa. Through this process of distributing quality International products, the consumer buying a product distributed by Classic Houseware, will enjoy an above average usage experience.

The company was formed in 2018 as a new venture in order to bring newness in design and product to the local market.

Management of Classic Houseware has in excess of 25 years' experience in the industry and has enabled numerous international brands to have a leading position in the South African market.

The re-launch of Krups small electrical appliances in the South African market fits in with this vision and will allow the company to bring iconic, well styled quality and functional products to the market. This brand will present products in the breakfast category to the market.

KRUPS®

“Details that make a big taste difference”

Since 1846, the KRUPS brand has been characterized by innovation, bold masterpieces and iconic products, all designed to meet customer needs. Thanks to their loyal customers, KRUPS can continue to write history - with a variety of details that will surprise you day after day.

Krups has been the German expert in coffee and food preparation since 1846. At Krups, we believe in details that make all the difference. We design robust and precise products that are a pleasure to use, enabling you to achieve the detail that will make all the difference and delight your loved ones.

At KRUPS, aesthetics and innovation are all about functionality to give users an exceptional, comprehensive and satisfying experience. In 2001 Groupe SEB acquired the Krups Brand as part of the Moulinex Group acquisition. The introduction of the Groupe SEB R&D resources have enable the Krups brand to be modernised and revamped.
